

The Davisson Brothers Band has a unique style infusing a blend of country, southern rock, and bluegrass. Their distinctive sound, combined with their incredible talent and unbounded energy, has gained the band an insanely loyal fan base. Based in Clarksburg West Virginia, brothers Donnie Davisson (lead vocals and rhythm guitar) and Chris Davisson (rhythm and lead guitar) have been playing together since childhood. It was only natural that cousin Sammy Davisson (bass guitar and vocals) and lifelong best friend Aaron Regester (drums) would join the band in 2006, making the band's sound as true to their roots as country music can get.

Aaron's rock solid drumming and Sammy's bass groove and flawless harmonies provide the perfect foundation for Donnie's impassioned, soulful vocals and high energy stage presence. Chris' signature, one-of-a kind guitar provides the mind-bending blend of bluegrass, country, and blues guitar, creating a sound unlike anything you've ever heard. Their lyrics and sound tell powerful stories of their family history and lifestyle, and is sure to gain a nationwide following. The band is currently working with acclaimed producer Keith Stegall on the release of their first national single.
